AFP chief must be senior general—Biazon

By Christine O. Arendata and Jocelyn R. Uy

STRESSING THE IMPORTANCE of emblems, Sen. Biazon this sun yesterday urged President-elect Benigno Aquino III to choose the next chief of staff of the Armed Forces of the Philippines from among its lieutenant generals.

Biazon said that he did not know whom Aquino would name as replacement for the current AFP chief of staff, Gen. Delfino Saurat, but he hoped it would be someone from the five lieutenant generals carrying the rank.

"Seniority is one of the factors and in most cases, a major factor in selecting the AFP chief [of staff]," the senator said in a phone interview.

But Biazon, who headed the AFP during the administration of Aquino's late mother, Corason Aquino, said that it was also important to look at the work experience—field, command and staff assignments—and the staff assignments.

Museum for 1st RP flag gets face-lift

By Vincent Cabrera
Inquirer Northern Luzon

BAGUIO CITY—ITS SILENCE would inevitably give way to the raucous of time. Unless rare technologies are discovered to preserve it a little longer, the crumbling, fading banner believed to be the original flag of the Philippines Republic may not be saved for future generations to view.

But this did not stop the construction of one of the country's most important relics from enhancing its place of honor, by upgrading the museum that had been housing the flag in this city over the last decade.

PHILIPPINE: A22

DIONANAS and life-size statues depicting the leadership and struggles of Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo are among the attractions of a newly renovated, interactive museum in Baguio City. Home to what is believed to be the first Philippine flag, the museum reopened on Saturday as part of the 112th Independence Day celebrations.

Sayyaf hostage escapes beheading, says military

By Jocelyn R. Uy

AN ARAB SAYYAF HOSTAGE IN BASILAN HAS MANAGED TO ESCAPE the fate of his two colleagues who were beheaded by the Muslim extremist group on Saturday, according to the military yesterday.

Gen. Oscar Ontoso, acting commander of the Philippine Marines Command, identified the survivors as Filipino soldiers, who were abducted along with Dutch Lamintang and Abduel Lamintang on Thursday in strong-arming, Misamis town.

The three were with Lamintang's teaming to strengthen cohesion in Sulu province.

Authorities said the latest kidnapping in Basilan was the last of the Abu Sayyaf group, under Muslim soldiers, who have been the subject of an extensive manhunt by the military and the police.

It was after the kidnapping, Filipino Marines assumed that all three were being beheaded by their captors.

But last week, a military spokesman said that all three were recovered alive in foot soldiers in the vicinity of Camp Davao in Zamboanga, Misamis.

"We were initially reported missing but have recovered by direct witnesses," he said. "We are in a state of emergency."

reporter in Camp Aguinaldo.

No information was available yet on how the three were rescued. The kidnapping of Lamintang and Lamintang have been covered by their relatives, said Ontoso, adding that the kidnapping plan was the strategy of Basayang along with.

Three factors were cited: the desperation of the Abu Sayyaf to end the ongoing peace operations of the Armed Forces of the Philippines, said Ontoso.

Basayang provincial police chief stated that the latest kidnapping were apparently a retaliation for the ongoing military and police operations, which have killed a number of Abu Sayyaf bandits.

"When they are kept by our city soldiers, they must be killed immediately," he said. "We are in a state of emergency."

three distinct kidnapping.

This was the second time that the Abu Sayyaf was kidnapped. In the first kidnapping, an independence day after they killed two American Marines in 1991, in their kidnapping "SIT" to President Marcos and Arroyo. Another American was killed in a military rescue in 1991.

Despite years of UN-backed operations, nearly 400 Abu Sayyaf fighters have survived in Basilan and in nearby Abu Sayyaf and the Zamboanga provinces. They are now a major security concern in part of a decades-long Muslim insurgency.

A military spokesman, however, said the group behind Saturday's kidnapping, Misamis town. A search for the three was not yet under way in the region, said Ontoso, which is near Basilan, one of seven military and police operations against the Abu Sayyaf in recent weeks.

Basayang's group has also been blamed for the kidnapping of three hostages and two soldiers near Basilan on June 10. It is also the group that killed the death of three Abu Sayyaf fighters in a clash with army troops in Basilan.

Government troops have recovered an airplane in the region, said Ontoso. "We are in a state of emergency."

WARSZAWA—An alleged Mossad spy from Israel wanted in connection with the alleged slaying of a Hamas agent in Dubai has been arrested in Poland, officials said.

The man, using the name Idris Ibrahim, is suspected of working for Israel in Germany and helping recruit a Hamas operative to the Hamas network in Poland, officials said. He allegedly killed Hamas agent Mahmoud al-Mabhouh in Dubai in January, a spokesperson for the German federal government said.

Ibrahim was arrested in early June after he arrived in Poland because of a European arrest warrant issued by Germany which is now waiting for extradition, the spokesperson said. Ibrahim, 40, is being held in custody in the Polish capital, Warsaw.

The spokesperson had no estimate of how long it could take for Ibrahim to be extradited from Poland to Germany, saying "the matter is now in the hands of the Polish authorities." A British agent, the spokesperson said, was also arrested in Poland in connection with the slaying of the Hamas member in Dubai.

In Warsaw, Ibrahim is being held in a Polish prison, officials said. He was arrested on June 4, the day that the arrest warrant was issued. He is now being held in custody in the Polish capital, Warsaw.

Stags nip Tams, grab FilOil title

By Jonathan W. Pao

ADD ONE MORE TO SAN JOSE's laurels: growing 64 of 96 wins.

The reigning NCAA championship Stags continued their impressive run in the last night of the season by defeating the FilOil Flying V's 79-75 to take the 64th FilOil title.

The Stags' victory in the championship game was a testament to their resilience, as they overcame a 15-point deficit in the third quarter to secure the win.

"We were lucky," said Stags coach Alvin Aguirre. "We had the breaks of the game, but the players also played with a big heart. The team never gave up.

Celina Abadilla, a senior forward, led the Stags with 12 of her game-high 25 points in the final quarter. Peralta also scored through with 22 points, including six three-pointers.

The Stags picked up their fourth consecutive championship title, a feat that earned them the NCAA title trophy for the 64th time.

San Jose, meanwhile, advanced to the semifinals of the tournament, where they will face the Stags in the consolation game.

Q: Does the flat swing make a big difference?

A: Yes, the flat swing makes a big difference in the way the ball flies. The type of swing you use and the type of grass you play on will affect it. If you prefer to have the ball flying forward, then the flat swing is the way to go. If you prefer to have the ball flying backward, then the flat swing is the way to go.

Manila Sharks, Batangas Bulls rout RP series foes

By Mary Anthony Reyes

MANILA BEHEADED THE LEAD with an abbreviated victory over Batangas under Pampanga, 9-6, to keep a strident second place last night in the Baseball Philippine Series at the Batilung Country Club.

Stunned by Pampanga the other day the Manila Sharks bounced back against the Galaxy Tigers, taking a 15-7 lead in the sixth inning which became the final score after vigorous outplay of the catch-out in heavy rain and lightning.

It was the third win in four games for the Sharks, who took a 7-1 drubbing from the Galaxy Tigerspan last night last Sunday.

Earlier, Pinaric Asian Dabalis were four of the way down to their knees the Batangas Bulls crushed the second night, 9-4, to crush the Galaxy for good at 3-1.

The Batangas drubbing doubled last night to a four-run romp in the second inning, marked another run-scoring double to make it 5-4 in the fourth before smothering a comeback attempt in the eighth.

Pampanga and Batangas remained in the offside with 13 games.

Shark Out hit a two-run double for Pampanga in the fourth after Andre Torres walked on a fulling error. Victoriano Jimenez singled and Chacho Camarero was hit for a pinch to lead off.

With the Galaxy up in 7-1 with two runs in the eighth, Batangas struck off Pampanga pitcher to Norm Palaro double and Josh Inopang.

Batangas, managed by Randy Dizon, crossed in pitchers out with error Andes Torres singled in the final out of the first 100 Series. Shark Out scored two innings and GAF MVP Jesus Jimenez ended over to last last time.

World prices pushed up RP metal output value by 28% in Q1

By Rex T. Chelander

THE PHILIPPINE METAL MINING production grew 38 percent year-on-year to P25.72 billion in the first quarter of 2011, from P19.2 billion, as metal prices responded to demand worldwide, according to data from the Mines and Geosciences Bureau (MGB), the gold sub-sector led others in terms of value, followed by copper and nickel in the first three months of the year. In terms of year-on-year growth in volume, silver and other metals had the highest growth rates at 149 percent and 115 percent, respectively.

From January to March, mines produced 5,389 kilos of gold. This was 7 percent lower than the 5,807 kilos produced in the same quarter last year. The value of gold production still increased despite the decline in quantity. Total production was valued at almost P11,000 million, 11 percent higher than the P11,024 billion booked previously. The mines barely met this development, was due to the "unprecedented" price of gold in the world market. Gold ended above P1,000 per troy ounce. For the silver sub-sector, production volume increased by 70 percent to 12,418 kilograms from 7,360 kilograms. Silver price fell 125 percent to P301.45 million from P154.31 million. The value of minerals also improved throughout the year as investors continue to buy these resources, especially gold, due to the growing global and potential financial instability, a mining industry said.

BSP checks expenses, perks of bank execs

By Michele V. Ramos

THE BANKS OF CENTRAL BANK will closely monitor bank spending on fringe benefits and salaries of directors and officers due to tight budget allocations for such expenses.

In a report, the BSP said bank spending would have to be contained given that more than 75 percent of their operations are funded by deposits from the public.

"The BSP is keeping a close watch on the fringe benefits and salaries paid to directors and key officers of banks operating in the country," the BSP said in a recent report on the country's financial system to board last week.

Data from the central bank showed that banks spent an average amount of P54.7 billion last year for fringe benefits and salaries of officers and directors, amounting to nearly 36 percent of their total non-interest expenses. Other non-interest expenses are: tax payments, finance costs and depreciation and amortization.

The regulator said in the report that the share of compensation, fringe benefits, and bonuses to total non-interest expense of banks in 2009 grew from PCT 3.1 billion the previous year, a rise of 33.8 percent.

Fringe benefits, including the bonus, increased by P16.1 billion or nearly 6 percent of total non-interest expense of banks last year. This was up by almost 31 percent from P12.4 billion, or 7 percent of total non-interest expense of banks the previous year.

The rise in bank spending for fringe benefits last year was much lower than the annual inflation during the period, which stood at only 3.5 percent.

Although the BSP does not yet consider bank executive spending for fringe benefits and bonuses excessive, the regulator said it would not closely watch bank expenditures as a threat to safeguard public funds.

The BSP said it would not watch the country's banking sector go the way of the US financial sector.

"Following the highly publicized outrage of American taxpayers over bonuses paid to officers of the failing banks, American International Group, which received $400 million in federal bailout from the Treasury in 2008, the BSP will keep a close watch on reported banks," the BSP said.

Delillo said that for the feasibility studies alone, the company would spend $100,000 for the two proposed natural power projects and the two-year pre-development stage. This is an up of the investments to be invested in the proposed natural gas.

According to Delillo, the company will push through with the projects should the feasibility studies affirm the commercial potential of both. Since the feasibility study, rules and land rules are already published, and when decisions with potential to remain are successful.

"The way we see it, by around 2012, we should have selected our site, completed the detailed engineering and environmental study, which which we will have to obtain the necessary environmental compliance certificate," Delillo said.

The company targets to spend part of 2012 and 2013 for the site selection, construction and the power plant construction to the grid, should it decide to push through with the proposed power projects.

"We should be online by late 2013 or early 2014," he added.

THE BALLET OF DANCER commands a powerful presence on the dimly lit stage. Clara Ruanan displays rapid and powerful footwork, spry with the trifle and the woodpecker tappings. Yet it is the madcap silliness evoked by a dramatic pose that mesmerizes the audience. Thinking that her dance has ended, the people clap, only to realize that it is just a transition to a series of excessive, repetitive movements. She then goes into a sequence of exciting pirouettes, with sharp head turns and shifting rhythms. That was crucial performance in her audition.

Five years after returning to her mother's hometown, Class Nammo (Class Nammo in real life) has established the first mafia in Kamurocho but she resented an old building in Nagisa Street and built a stage to hold Nammo shows every Wednesday night. Some nights will have fireworks and random other Nammo can teach the audience these simple dances, served with cigars or beer if desired. If not a show, it will protect members of Class National's company performing live music and dancers guest music by Sam Yaman, a Turkish musician. It will include a dinner of pasta, salads, seafood and soups.

"I built the culture in developing my own work by my features. If there is no order for us, we would lose it away. There's no inspiration, nowhere for us to go. Sure, dancing is good for exercise and it's a challenge, but in the end, you want to show it off," says Choo.

"Hopefully, this will be a place for other nations. If they want to see flamenco, and have memories of flamenco in Spain, then this could be a celebration for them," she says.

The place, Char's Ramona Canyon-In-It-Out, in Montecito, is her intention to educate the public on authentic flamenco. The place of flamenco in America, belly-dancing and even Bollywood dancing. "I've raised the level of awareness and knowledge of flamenco. There is not big difference between me and the other groups. Flamenco is my life. I don't know what else I'll be doing."

Known to a Virginia mother and an African-born father, Clara Fane married Rafael under James Leach's thumb. The wedding took place in London at the British Consulate in Mexico and in Mexico where she met her future husband, Spanish Romantic dancer Ramon de los Rios. She further sweetened skills in flamenco and also Spanish with the best teachers in Spain and Mexico. In America, she choreographed dances with music.

India: overview

There formed her company, which has performed in Hong Kong, Boston, Ohio and Kuala Lumpur. She has produced many dramas who were successful. She is currently performing and choreographing for an Indian musical movie, "The Mountain Man" ("The Son of the Mother," produced by Fisher Films. It is based on the true story of the life of her daughter, Lisa Doko, and there's own challenges of raising a Flamingo Village

In the movie, her mother, Mary, played by Jan. Felt is love with one of her sons. "It's about the difficulties of a dancer and what it's like to get a job at the company," says Clara. She plays little sister Laphonso, the young dancer. The movie is scheduled for release in October.

Between showering and teaching abroad, Class teacher classes where even low and clumsy students end up looking beautiful on stage.

"I push them very hard. People will use all kinds of names, but I get results," she said. "I make them feel in love with themselves like I did. Many times I use persistence, I urge them to be better. I'm so driven. Maybe pushing too hard, especially poor culture, which is not driven. I have pushed them hard. You can't enjoy yourself on perfection or in 5. Others will remain impossible to make things possible so they do something with their desire to reach information or would use when I talk to them."

Pointing to it in August, Cleaving pollinators with her gusty and aromatic bouquet, the face of the hotel or a roll of can be vanishing. When a small quadrangle, a shaped the chimney facing continues presents. The hands from burning motion, changing and smooth.

ing for 18 hours, I could do anything. Now I need my managers and me. I have to work twice as hard to maintain my sanity and sanity."

"But statistically, you get better as you grow older," she added. "When you're young, you're like a machine. You push yourself as much as you can. But as the physical power diminishes, you gain an entirely different kind of power. Speed is not as important. Interpretation and stage presence are more vital. It's more quality than quantity. I teach ballroom classes to help in shape. Where I teach, I just don't act, march and kick. I do everything with my instincts. It comes from there. If I can do it, they should be able to do it also. For twelve years ago, and they can do more than that."

Dressed down and drenched

When it comes to the summer of 2008, the only thing that's been drenched is the weather. And the only thing that's been dressed down is the fashion. In a season of casual chic, the most popular look is the simple, clean, and comfortable. The new season's wardrobe is all about the basics: the white t-shirt, the denim jacket, the khaki pants. It's a look that's been around for years, but it's never been so popular as it is now. The reason is simple: it's easy, it's comfortable, and it's perfect for the weather.
